

AT for Access

Device, Software or Tool	Platform: i:iOS, A: Android, W: Windows, M: Mac, C: Chrome, B: Browser, O: Other										Description and other features	Cost	Additional Resources	Could be considered for use with Pre-K students
Symbaloo	i								C	B	It provides symbol supported web navigation. Users are able to create direct links to activities, sort them across different groupings, and adjust the visual that represents the given website	Free with Paid option $59.99 and up
Camera Mouse											It uses the built in webcam to track a selected item for on screen interaction. It can track any item that the webcam can detect. Allows for a lot of customization for how it will respond to actions on the screen. When trialing it works great with jackson pollock website	Free
Enable Viacam									A	W	It is available for Linux. Uses the built in webcam to track an items that has been selected. Allows for a high level of customization.	Free
Hawkeye Access	i										It uses the built in webcam to track eye gaze. Can then be used to navigate websites through the app. Also has the ability to pair the iPad with a Mac and control the mac through eye gaze. It is important to note that macs also have the ability to do head tracking through the built in webcam by using the Head Pointer found through the accessibility features.	Free
Heavy Duty Suction Cups with clips											Heavy Duty Suction cups with caribeners and clips - these can be used in conjunction with rope to help keep a device from being thrown/dropped and damaged	$10.79 from Amazon
Switches Adapted Keyboard/Mouse											Adapted or individualized switches			